

dancing through life

THE OFFICIAL
E-NEWSLETTER
FOR NEOTERIC
DANCE
COLLABORATIVE

Volume 3, May 2010

Greetings!

Dear past and present families, students, colleagues and friends,

We are pleased to announce in the May edition of Dancing Through Life the launch of the newly re-designed www.neodance.org. Be sure to visit the site and our blog www.neotericdance.blogspot.com for the latest NDC news

Studio Talk

In the studio, we are busy working away on new repertoire.

Assistant Director and Resident Choreographer Jessica Soucy is working on a large piece inspired by the four elements, Earth, Wind, Fire and Water.

I am choreographing my first full length work drawing inspiration from Edgar Lee Masters' Spoon River Anthology. For insight into the characters in Spoon River check out <http://www.spoonriveranthology.net>

We are hoping to bring this new work to a performance space near you sometime in the fall. Stay tuned!

NDC Chosen for 2010 Opening Act Series

In 2009, BoSoma launched their Opening Act Series at their spring season performance Through this endeavor, BoSoma aims to support young companies and choreographers by inviting them to be the Opening Act for their annual spring season performance.

This spring, Neoteric Dance Collaborative was proud to be chosen for BoSoma's Opening Act Series. NDC just wrapped up two performances at the Boston University Dance Theatre in PUSH, produced by BoSoma with special guest Contrapose Dance. Many thanks to BoSoma for the opportunity and to all who came out to support Neo!

Neoteric Dance Collaborative

to return to NYC June 2-3

NDC has been invited once again by Eidolon Ballet to perform in IndepenDance, a choreography showcase for several emerging and established NYC choreographers and companies. The company will be performing an excerpt from Ghosts from the Little Black Book (2009).

Who: NDC and guests of Eidolon Ballet

What: IndepenDance

Where:

City Center Studios, Studio 5
130 West 56th Street,
between 6th and 7th Avenues
New York, NY

When:

Wednesday, June 2nd -
Thursday, June 3rd, 2010,
7:30PM

Tickets: $15 cash at door, $10 in advance
Information: 212-946-1275